Creating enjoyable environments

How Polycopy works

At Polycopy, we design and deliver well-considered education spaces that work — practically, aesthetically, and long term.

Our approach is structured, collaborative, and proven across a wide range of schools, colleges, and multi-academy trusts.

Our Process

1. Understand the brief

We take the time to understand your space, your users, and your objectives — whether that's maximising capacity, improving flow, or creating a more engaging environment.

2. Plan and visualise

Using detailed CAD planning and 3D visuals, we develop layouts that solve practical challenges and allow you to clearly see how the finished space will work.

3. Refine and coordinate

We work closely with you to refine layouts, finishes, and furniture specifications, ensuring everything is fit for purpose and within budget.

4. Deliver and install

Our experienced team manages supply, delivery, and installation, keeping disruption to a minimum and ensuring projects are completed on time.

5. Handover with confidence

The result is a well-executed space that supports learning, working, and wellbeing — delivered with clarity and care from start to finish.

The Brief: Provide an inspirational space for students in their new school block that will be suitable for the school as they grow over the next few years. Work with the school's vision and ideas to create a Sixth Form hub that would act as a focal point for study and social use.

Key Challenges:

Coordinating furniture across a large number of rooms
Ensuring consistency, durability and ease of use
Delivering to align with the wider build programme

Our Approach: Using detailed CAD planning, we developed clear layouts for each space, coordinating furniture selection and placement to ensure a smooth and efficient installation before the end of the summer holidays.

Polycopy absolutely met our expectations. They were responsive, supportive, and delivered exactly what we asked for—on time and within budget. We wouldn't hesitate to work with them again.

They understood what it was we were trying to create, and were able to give us different designs, different concepts.

Ultimately, Polycopy has given us what we asked for on the deadline we needed.

We wouldn't hesitate to use them again. And if they can deliver something like this for our sixth form students, we'd recommend them to anybody.

I have been delighted with the organisation and support from Polycopy whilst undertaking the refurbishment of our Sixth Form spaces.

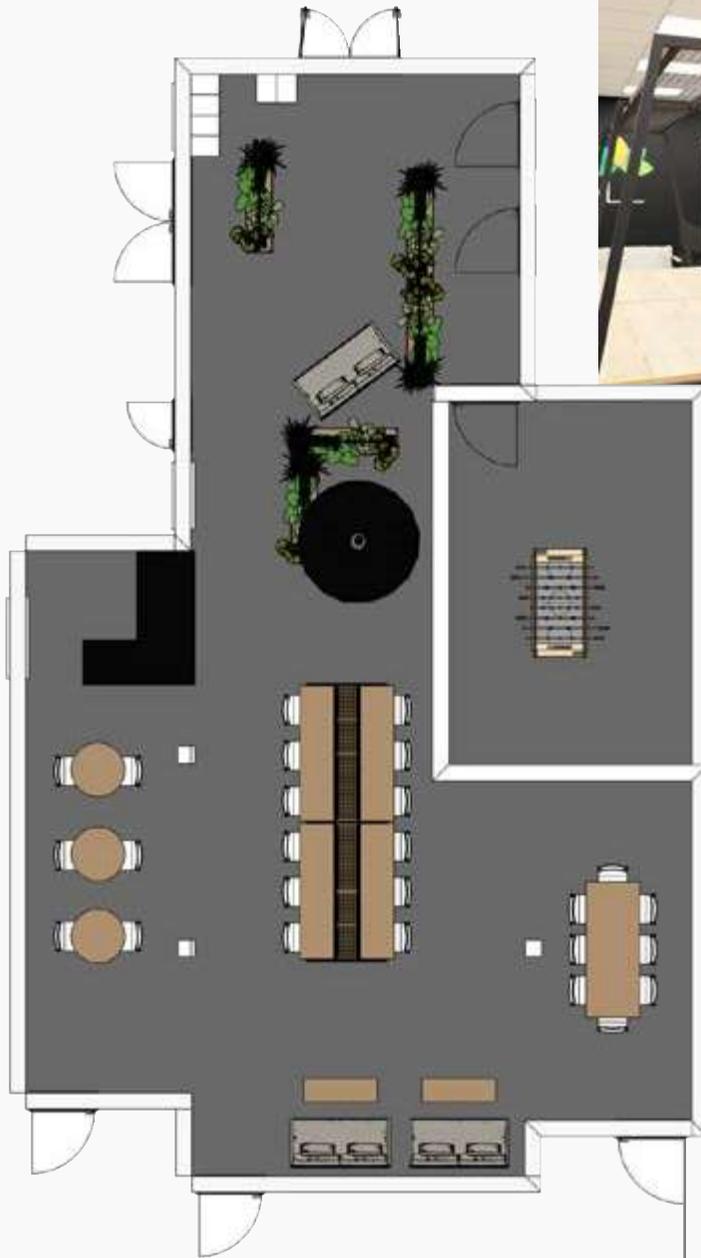

Alex was instrumental in offering constructive advice and support throughout the planning stage. The team provided CAD designs to offer visual interpretations of what our choices would look like in situ.

The project was well managed and all items were delivered and installed on time. The team consistently updated us with relevant information and were proactive in supporting the project from start to handover.

I cannot recommend Polycopy highly enough, and will definitely be using their services in the future.

Sixth Form Light Hall School

Design Brief: Design a Sixth Form lounge that would attract students to the school

Scope of work: Provide inspiration for styles and decor, design layout and install furniture

This area is used as a breakout and relaxation space for sixth form students. Therefore a variety of zones were required to allow for both break-time relaxing and lesson-time studying.

Several comfy sofas provide an area for students to chill. A large A-frame table allows for group work and lunchtime chat. Various smaller tables create a cafe-style feel for smaller groups.

...after being in this school since 2019 I can confidently say that the new study space for sixth formers is the best it has ever been. The café area that's incredibly cosy, the high tables perfect for studying, the low tables perfect for focusing and the single tables giving an exam-like feel to the base. It's exciting being back...

Study Library

John Taylor High School

Design Brief: Design a new student study room for the sixth form with a modern feel

Scope of work: Design new layout; supply and install furniture

The company were able to realise the vision for our sixth form study library. The communication during the design stage was excellent and always had our final vision/ideas at the fore of what they presented. The final room is brilliant. It is EXACTLY how I wanted it for our students.

Staff Room

Light Hall School

Design Brief: Redesign the staff room to create an inviting space that staff would want to use

Scope of work: Provide inspiration for styles and decor, design layouts and install furniture

nature

A scheme of soft blues and greens tied together with a natural oak finish creates the relaxing space set out in the design brief.

A mix of colourful planting continues the nature-inspired theme.

Teacher Training Centre John Taylor MAT

Design Brief: Refresh the central collaboration area to create an inviting space for trainee staff.

Scope of work: Provide inspiration for decor, design layout, supply and install furniture.

So many things can affect the final finished look of your project. But the key factor has to be your choice of fabric.

There's a huge range out there, in a wide variety of colours and textures.

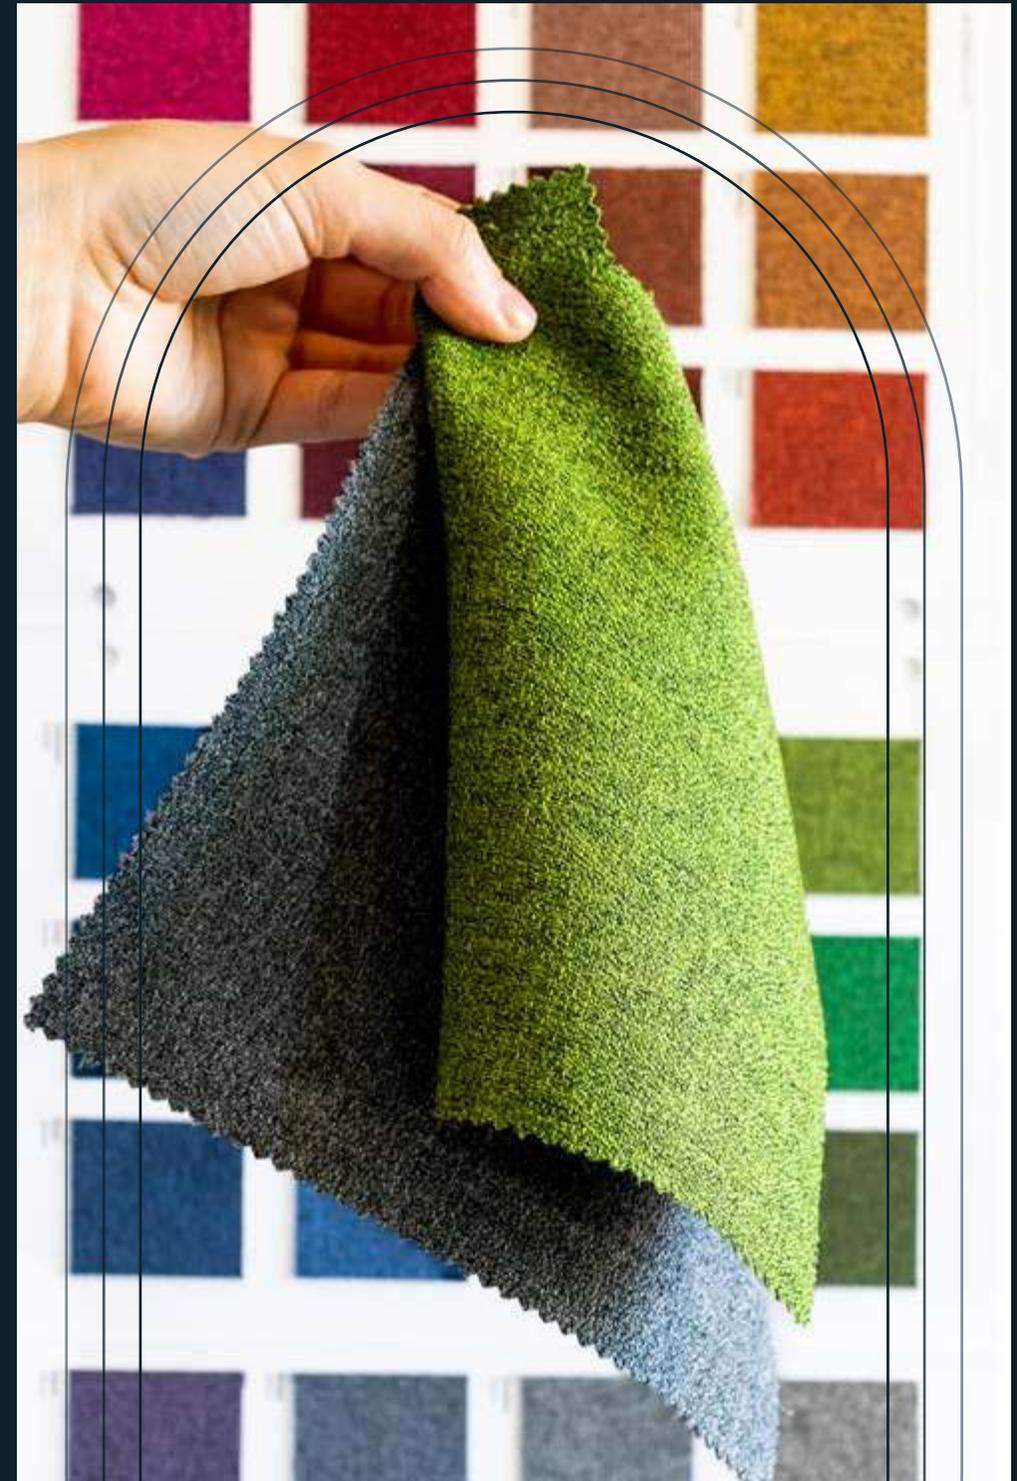

When renovating your space, think about how much use the area will get. This will inform what type of material you go for.

Then think about your decor. Going for a cosy, upmarket vibe? Try a soft, textured boucle or a wool weave.

One of our favourite fabrics is Camira's X2. Crafted from 100% recycled polyester, X2 is a sustainable choice to feel good about.

The two-tone weave is brilliant for camouflaging dirt, especially in demanding environments such as classrooms and hot desking.

Plus, it comes with a 10-year guarantee and is certified to over 100,000 Martindale cycles (a measure of a fabric's resistance to abrasion).

Student Canteen The Hart School

Design Brief: Redesign the school canteen area to tie in with the school branding and fit in as many students as possible

Scope of work: Provide CAD plans for decor and space planning; supply and install furniture

Polycopy have been fantastic to work with, and have delivered all furniture to our tight deadlines. Alex and Tristan have been amazing and patient with us throughout our refurbishment projects.
